Favorite Foods, Inc. Launches Biodiesel Program

Somersworth, NH, June 12, 2008 - Favorite Foods announced today the introduction of its new Biodiesel initiative. Effective immediately, all Favorite Foods delivery trucks will be fueled solely with Biodiesel.

Biodiesel is the name of a clean burning alternative fuel produced from domestic, renewable resources such as soybeans. It can be used in compression-ignition (diesel) engines with little or no modifications. Biodiesel is biodegradable, nontoxic, and essentially free of sulfur and aromatics. The use of Biodiesel in a conventional diesel engine results in a substantial reduction of unburned hydrocarbons, carbon monoxide, and particulate matter when compared to emissions from diesel fuel.

"As a business, we have always done everything we can to positively impact our customers and our economy," stated Chris Barstow, President of Favorite Foods. "Now, we are taking steps to positively impact our environment. By investing in initiatives like a Biodiesel program, energy efficiencies in our new warehouse, and an expanded recycling program that will allow us to reduce waste exponentially, Favorite Foods can give back in a whole new way."

To further expand its impact on the environment, Favorite Foods has provided its customers with their own means of giving back. "In addition to these internal initiatives," Chris continued, "we are also focused on making available to our customers an array of sustainable, eco friendly products that allow them to contribute to a healthier environment." An assortment of products ranging from "green" cleaning supplies to biodegradable plates and utensils are now readily available.
