

Operating to Reduce Environmental Impact

Awareness of the environment and considering how to reduce Bunzl Distribution's impact on it is not new for Bunzl, nor is it a passing phase.

Our environmental programs have been in place for more than six years, and we continually review and seek to improve our performance in this area.

At Bunzl, we focus on sourcing and finding the packaging alternatives our customers need to support their green efforts. Whether it's foodservice packaging or green chemicals that have less of an environmental impact, Bunzl is your source.

These products fall into three major categories:

- Products that are recyclable.
- Products that are from manufacturers utilizing sustainable production practices.
- Products that are certified "green."

Corporately, we are focusing on three areas to affect the environment in a positive way:

- Reducing landfill waste
- Improving fuel efficiency
- Reducing energy consumption

Working with our customers and vendors to reduce our mutual impact on the environment is an important Bunzl business goal. Collectively we can build a more sustainable future.

